STRONG WARNING IS SENT TO JAPAN BY LEAGUE GROUP

Geneva Committee To Act Unless Tokyo Accepts Report on Far Eastern Crisis by Friday.

Nippon Accused of Breach in Fortification of Mandated Islands in Pacific Territory.

By HARRY FLORY.

GENEVA, Jan. 18.—(UP)—The League of Nations committee of nineteen considering the Chinese-Japanese controversy over Manchuria tonight served Japan with an ultimatum that the League will act as it sees fit unless Japan by Friday accepts, in the main, the original report on the crisis.

The committee expressed willingness to agree to Tokyo's request that the clause inviting the United States and Soviet Russia to sit in on the proposed new committee on negotiations regarding the entire Manchurian problem be omitted.

Gurney told police he failed to stop at the crossing. His car was demolished. O. W. Hall, of Montgomery, was the engineer of the train.

YOKOHAMA ATTACK ON AMERICAN FIRM PROTESTED BY U. S.

Ambassador Demands Probe of Riot Which Brought Extensive Damage to Singer Property.

TOKYO, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The destruction of valuable equipment and records in a riot of disgruntled employees at the Singer Sewing Machine Company's branch at Yokohama today caused American Ambassador Joseph C. Grew to request the Japanese government to make an immediate investigation and to provide adequate police protection for American life and property.

The rioters, nearly 200 strong, swarmed through the building smashing typewriters and furniture, damaging safes, breaking down and windows and tearing up installment sale contracts and other valuable documents.

Richard McCleary, representative of the New York headquarters of the company, said the loss was "likely to reach several hundred thousand yen." The yen is worth about 20 American cents.

PRESIDENT-ELECT AND HOOVER PLAN FRIDAY MEETING

Sino-Japanese Situation Slated for Discussion at White House Conference of Leaders.

By JOHN F. CHESTER.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The explosive situation created by the Sino-Japanese war was scheduled for discussion tonight at a conference of leaders.

Although the president and president-elect were chary today of formal comment as to the agenda of this second meeting, it was stated officially that talk would be centered upon "what is going on" in the field of foreign affairs.

Simultaneously, an authoritative source reported that the debate would "not necessarily" come up as topic.

Indication was given, nevertheless, that this subject might possibly arise during talk of the Geneva arms parley and the projected world economic conference.

Beneath the surface, however, the possibility of the conflict between the Japanese and Chinese forces in Jehol might expand, and such incidents as the wrecking of an American plant in Yokohama have been major subjects of concern among administration leaders.

The statement of the president-elect, however, foreign affairs talk with Secretary Stimson last week, that American foreign policy must continue to uphold "the sanctity of international treaties" gave further fuel to the speculation.

There was no doubt in official Washington that the coming meeting would see still another effort to bring the outgoing and incoming administrations into a single line concerning continuing international problems.

Secretary Stimson, after a conference with the chief executive last afternoon, made known that he would sit at the meeting just as he did at the previous Hoover-Roosevelt parley.

Angelo Herndon, 19-year-old negro communist of Cincinnati, was found guilty in Fulton superior court late Wednesday afternoon of a charge of attempting to incite to insurrection and was given a sentence of from 18 to 20 years.

Though the offense is punishable by death the jury recommended mercy and fixed the sentence.

The closing arguments in the case were heard by the jury from 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon until 5:30 p. m. Judge Lee B. Wyatt pronounced sentence immediately and attorneys for the defense said they would file a motion today for a new trial.

Before the jury was allowed to enter the courtroom and render its verdict, the defense said they would file a motion today for a new trial.

French Will Search For Lady Mary Today

LONDON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—A dozen planes, mostly French military machines, will start Thursday from various French and African points to search for Lady Mary Bailey, of whom nothing has been heard since she left Oran, Algeria, Sunday on the second leg of a flight to Australia.

Meanwhile greatest anxiety was felt by Lady Mary's friends and relatives here, including her mother, Lady Rosemore, especially since doctors reported that the flyer showed symptoms of incipient influenza when she left Oran.

Washington, Jan. 18.—(AP)—A charge that republican leaders are trying to keep Huey Long's filibuster going, and an almost certain vote tomorrow on whether it shall be ended by cloture, faced senate leaders tonight after hours of effort to formulate an agreement that would satisfy all the factions involved.

Failing twice, in their attempt to assure a vote on the Glass banking bill and avoid a decision on the pending cloture petition, the leaders tried again, and worked out an arrangement that suited Long, only to see opposition arise from an unexpected quarter.

Saying he would not permit the senate to avoid a vote on the cloture petition, Senator Couzens, wealthy independent republican from Michigan, asserted:

"I resent the conduct of the lame duck leadership over here in a conspiracy to continue this sort of filibuster, and therefore I am anxious of having all senators on record as to whether or not they are willing to put cloture on that kind of a filibuster."

Under the rules the cloture motion will be voted upon at 1 p. m. tomorrow. A two-thirds vote is necessary to end a filibuster.

Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, who objected to the motion to limit debate without cloture, told Senator Robinson late in the day he would withdraw his objection since he had worked out a compromise amendment on the branch bank feature of the bank bill.

When Robinson said he had been informed another objection would be made if his unanimous consent request were renewed, Long asked who had told Robinson that, whereupon Couzens gained the floor and asserted:

"I do not desire to embarrass the senator from Arkansas by having him limit debate without cloture, told Senator Robinson late in the day he would withdraw his objection since he had worked out a compromise amendment on the branch bank feature of the bank bill."

When Robinson said he had been informed another objection would be made if his unanimous consent request were renewed, Long asked who had told Robinson that, whereupon Couzens gained the floor and asserted:

STILLMAN NAMED IN ALIENATION SUIT

Montreal Man Demands $1,000,000, Charging Loss of Wife's Affections.

By ROBERT ST. JOHN.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(AP)—James A. Stillman, former New York banker, who was a principal in one of the nation's most sensational divorce suits, has been named defendant in an alienation of affections suit in which $1,000,000 damages are reported to be sought, it was disclosed today.

The 62-year-old millionaire has been charged in Brooklyn supreme court by Luc Rochefort, a French-Canadian, who once ran for mayor of Montreal, with alienating the affections of his wife, Marjorie Rochefort.

The suit came to light when Rochefort's attorney filed a motion in the Brooklyn court in connection with another suit he has prepared to file against Stillman—a $250,000 libel action.

Stillman's counsel, Malcolm Sumner, in a 14-page answer to the motion, said his client had refused a suggestion by Rochefort's lawyer that the libel case be settled for $25,000; that "he did not regard his relations with Mrs. Rochefort as anything but a claim being made against him," and that he would fight both actions, if necessary, in open court.

In the long affidavit presented to the court today, Stillman's counsel charged the libel action had been brought "for the deliberate purpose of using and abusing the process of the court in a scandalous, improper and unprofessional manner in order to harass and intimidate the defendant, a man of wealth and prominence."

He said the purpose of the suit also was "to coerce and extort the payment of a large sum from the defendant in settlement of said action for alienation of affections; or, in failing in accomplishing this objective, to embarrass, stigmatize and defame the defendant."

"THROUGH" WITH STILLMAN, SAYS "FIFI" MCCORMICK

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The Chicago Evening American published today a copyrighted interview with the former "Fifi" Stillman McCormick asserting she is "through now" with James A. Stillman, New York banker, and is defending an alienation suit.

Mrs. McCormick said "we still remain partners in our children."

GAS, GAS ALL THE TIME, CAN'T EAT OR SLEEP

Stomach Gas So Bad Hurts Heart, Simple Compound Brings Quick Relief.

"The gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. Even my heart hurt. A friend suggested Adierka. The first dose I took brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine and never feel better."—Mrs. Jas. Miller.

Adierka has been on the market for over 30 years. Its success is based on the fact that it acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels while ordinary pills and laxatives act on the lower bowel only. Adierka gives your system a thorough cleansing, bringing out old poisons matter that you would not believe was in your system, and that has been causing gas pains, sour stomach, nervousness and headache.

You can easily prove to yourself the complete action and effectiveness that you get from Adierka by trying this simple test. Take a dose of the medicine you have been using for your bowels. Wait until your bowels have moved and then take a regular dose of Adierka. You will be astonished at the additional amount of old poisonous matter that is brought out.

What Doctors Say

Dr. H. L. Shoup, New York: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adierka reduces bacteria and colon bacilli."

Dr. A. J. Lancaster: "In gastro-intestinal diseases, where good bowel action is needed, Adierka has no equal."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adierka I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

Give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleansing with Adierka and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and chronic constipation. Be sure to get genuine.

FREE SAMPLE mailed on request. Address Adierka, Dept. 200, 96 S. Wabasha St., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by all druggists and drug departments.

Two Foreign Actresses Will Leave Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Two of Hollywood's foreign-born actresses, Mariene Dietrich and Maureen O'Sullivan, today announced the intention of leaving the film colony.

Miss Dietrich, who has had considerable trouble with her studio over selection of stories as well as a director for her productions, said she would leave next spring for her native Germany to join her husband, Rudolf Sieber, German film director. She gave a farewell party for Sieber, returning to Germany after a brief visit with his wife, at a night club in Hollywood last night.

With Miss O'Sullivan it's a case of "home sickness," she said. Friends say the young Irish actress has lost all interest in Hollywood since she broke off a supposed engagement with James Dunn, actor.

FAST PROGRESS MADE BY CAROLINA SOLONS

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 18.—(UP)—Working with speed, the house today passed and received a great number of new bills.

The house passed and sent to the senate a joint resolution to memorialize congress, asking it to regulate the value of currency with a view to strengthening commodity prices in the United States.

Thirty-five new bills were introduced. Among the more important: To extend the time for purchase of 1933 license tags from January 1 to March 1.

To amend the constitution to remove the 6 per cent limit for income tax and to amend the law relating to first-degree burglary and leave to the discretion of the court whether the penalty shall be death or life imprisonment. Death penalty for this offense is now mandatory.

SALES TAX PROPOSAL MADE IN SOUTH CAROLINA

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 18.—(AP)—The house today and means committee continued its appropriations hearings today, and the senate committee on the South Carolina legislature began to seek new sources of revenue.

The senate had before it a resolution by Nance, of Laurens, calling upon the ways and means committee to draft a graduated sales tax measure to replace property taxes.

The "indirect" tax plan took its place with other proposed measures for hard times, such as bills which would reduce maximum interest rates from 7 to 6 per cent and abolish sales of property under delinquent tax execution.

On the other hand the house refused to cut its own salaries from $400 to $200.

NEW YORK STATE TO ASK $45,000,000 R. F. C. LOAN

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Governor Lehman announced tonight that the Empire State will apply to the federal government "within a few days" for $45,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, to be used in New York state for unemployment relief.

This decision was made at a conference today between Governor Lehman, leaders of the New York legislature and state administration, which is dispersing unemployment relief funds at the rate of more than $4,000,000 a month.

WEALTHY OHIO AN ASKS COURT TO END FORCED DETENTION

CINCINNATI, Jan. 18.—(AP)—J. W. Stump, 77, and well-to-do, today was denied a writ of habeas corpus to release him from a sanitarium in which he charged relatives had him confined to prevent him from marrying a woman who nursed him back to health 20 years ago.

Common Pleas Judge Stanley Matthews denied the writ after Charles R. Terry, attorney for Stump, said relatives and friends of the man had agreed on a Cincinnati bank as guardian for his client.

Stump, for years a resident of Atlantic City, formerly lived in Cincinnati, Ky. He told the court he owns a tobacco warehouse at Cincinnati, lands in Florida and more than $30,000 in securities.

The delegates recommended that a committee go before the senate foreign relations committee to urge that the St. Lawrence waterway treaty be not permitted in any way to "restrict or impair the opportunity and right of the United States government to construct, maintain and operate a commercially useful and adequate waterway between the lakes and the sea."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment reported today to congress that it spent $364,544 in 1932 and receipts were $390,757.

The organization, which campaigned vigorously in many states, spent $68,803 in the period from November 3 to December 31, previously unreported until today.

"Footloose" Airplane Claimed by Miamian

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 18.—(UP)—Rosemont T. Anderson, Miami, revealed today he already has secured patents for a propellerless, foot-propelled, crashproof airplane, such as was described in dispatches this week as being perfected by Dr. Adolf Rohrbach, Berlin inventor.

Rohrbach's announcement of his invention caused Anderson to disclose his own invention, which he has worked on for the past 25 years. He said he had been allowed patents on 10 different claims, but had delayed issuance until he is able to organize a company for manufacturing the plane and until he can obtain foreign rights for the craft.

The plane, according to Anderson, will travel at a 50,000-foot altitude at 1,000 miles per hour and has a high efficiency factor over the present wing-type plane.

Refrigerator Heads To Meet Atlanta Distributors Today

George W. Mason (left) chairman of the board and president of the Kelvinator Corporation and the Leonard Refrigerator Company, and H. W. Burritt, vice president in charge of sales for these concerns, who will arrive in Atlanta today to confer with their distributors.

George W. Mason, chairman of the board and president of the Kelvinator Corporation and the Leonard Refrigerator Co. and H. W. Burritt, vice president in charge of sales, will arrive in Atlanta today for a conference with executives of the Gilham Electric Co. and the Graybar Electric Co., who distribute Leonard and Kelvinator refrigerators, respectively, in this territory.

As an evidence of its belief in the business future of the country, Kelvinator has set up for 1933 the largest appropriation for national advertising in its 18 years in the electric refrigerator business.

The company's unit shipments for the first quarter of the new fiscal year were 40 per cent greater than those of the corresponding period last year, Mr. Mason recently announced.

JUGOSLAVIAN KING IS MATCH MAKER FOR GLOBE TROTTER

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(AP)—While hunting with the king of Yugoslavia, Horace Ashton, Virginia-born photographer, met a beautiful blonde and married her, he said today after returning from a three-year absence in Europe.

Pointing to the former Cordana Dimovich, daughter of a Yugoslav playwright and a distant relative of King Alexander, the globe-trotting cameraman said: "This is what I found, and so I have stopped hunting."

Mrs. Ashton smiled brightly at her husband and, in fluent English, helped him to tell of their romance.

"We met one morning," supplied Mrs. Ashton, "and after talking for two hours, he said he would come back within a year, and if I were free, ask me to marry him. I laughed and said 'only an American could say such a thing.' Then he said he was writing to me, one letter or two, and he did come back."

DEATH OF CAROLIN VEAILED IN MYSTERY

GAFFNEY, S. C., Jan. 18.—(AP)—With five persons still held in jail, Cherokee county authorities continued tonight their efforts to fathom weird circumstances surrounding the death of Clarence R. Marsh, 48-year-old Gaffney meat market proprietor, whose wound and mangled body was found on railroad tracks near the business center of this town last night.

An inquest which had been arranged for today was postponed, but was tentatively set for tomorrow, but authorities said it may be deferred if all evidence has not been checked.

Prince Louis Approves Daughter's Divorce

MONTE CARLO, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Prince Louis, of Monaco, today agreed to the request from his daughter, the hereditary Princess Charlotte, for a divorce from Prince Pierre, of Monaco, as well as renunciation of her hereditary rights in favor of her son, Prince Rainier, 10.

Princess Charlotte and Prince Pierre separated in 1930. Raymond Poincaré, former president of France, attempted unsuccessfully to bring about a reconciliation.

The marital difficulties of the couple have been linked to political matters by reports that the prince was favored by a party which hoped to set up a republic in Monaco, in which is located the gambling casino at Monte Carlo.

IMPURE BREATH (Halitosis)

The amazing results of Pepsodent Antiseptic in fighting sore throat prove its effectiveness in checking Bad Breath (Halitosis). Remember, Pepsodent is 3 times more powerful in killing germs than other leading mouth antiseptics. Remember, even when diluted with water it still kills germs.

Some of the 50 different uses for this modern antiseptic:

Sore Throat Cuts and Abrasions Head Colds After Shaving Smoker's Throat Chapped Hands Bad Breath Mouth Irritations Skin Irritations Irritations of the Gums Cheeks Under-Arm Perspiration Odor Aftershave Foot "Athlete's Foot"

Be safe—and save money! When choosing your mouth antiseptic, be sure you choose the one that, even when it is diluted with water, still kills germs! The other kind costs more... either in money or in health. Insist on Pepsodent Antiseptic—and be safe!

Safe! Powerful! Goes 3 times as far

Now $1 equals $3 in buying protection against colds

PEPSODENT ANTISEPTIC is 3 times as powerful as other leading mouth antiseptics. Hence it goes 3 times as far. And whether you buy the 25c, 50c, or $1 size, you still get 3 times as much for your money.

YOU may be trying to save money. But instead of saving it, you're losing it if you don't know the difference between the two kinds of mouth antiseptics on the market. One kind must be used full strength to be effective—if you add water, it won't kill germs.

Pepsodent CAN be diluted. But the other kind—Pepsodent Antiseptic—is powerful enough to be diluted with 2 parts of water and still kill germs in less than 10 seconds—yet Pepsodent is absolutely safe when used full strength. Pepsodent Antiseptic is at least three times as powerful as other leading mouth antiseptics. Hence it goes three times as far—gives you three times as much for your money—and gives you extra protection against stubborn sore throat colds, unpleasant breath, and germ infections.

Mayor Cermak Fires Woman Investigator

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Mrs. Shirley Kub, "Secret Six" investigator, is out of a job.

The announcement of her removal came a few hours after Mayor Anton J. Cermak had ordered all city policemen assigned to the Secret Six crime-fighting organization of the Association of Commerce, withdrawn.

Neither Robert Isham Randolph, head of the Secret Six, nor Alexander Jamie, operating director, would say that Mrs. Kub's removal was in response to Mayor Cermak's animosity toward her as stated in his announcement.

"I'm tired of seeing Mrs. Kub trudging on police investigations," the mayor said. "It's time that it stopped. I never want to see a Chicago policeman talking to her, and I don't want to see her around the city hall."

FREEDOM ACCEPTANCE DEBATED BY FILIPINOS

MANILA, Jan. 18.—(AP)—While university students celebrated the enactment in Washington of independence for the Philippines, insular legislators discussed today whether to accept or reject the measure.

The student mass meeting was the first general expression of rejoicing over proffered freedom.

Manuel Quizon, president of the insular senate, an opponent of the measure in the form adopted, issued a statement in which he expressed the opinion that the bill would be overwhelmingly defeated if submitted to the Philippine legislature now.

But one speech was heard in the legislature today. Representative Pedro Vera, an opponent of Quizon's course, praising the enactment.

Circulation of a petition in the insular houses intense to bind members to oppose the bill was started but what progress it has made was not disclosed.

ALBERT A. SON WINS CONTRACT VICTORY IN MIAMI TOURNAMENT

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Albert A. Son, of New Orleans, La., today won the individual championship of the winter Miami Billie Jean national contract bridge tournament here, defeating eight champions of champions in the finals by scoring 13 match points of a possible 21.

He was just one point ahead of Ridgeway Bishop, of Chicago, who finished second. Milton C. Work, of Philadelphia, the bridge authority, and Mrs. Harlan Hadley, of Indianapolis, tied for third place with 11 points each.

The play throughout was so close that ties for first place appeared likely, but Son pulled ahead in the last few hands.

Eighty players were in the preliminary competitions last night. They were the champions of district tournaments in metropolitan centers of the north and east, in which 3,200 players participated.

Tonight play was held for the winter team-of-four championship. The results will not be announced until tomorrow when match point scores are tabulated.

JUDGE SAYS SALARY IS HIS ONLY INCOME

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—An emphatic assertion that his salary as federal district judge has been his only source of income on the bench was made to the house judiciary committee by Harold Louderback, California jurist.

Judge Louderback's official conduct is under investigation, and he came across the continent to testify behind closed doors Monday night and Tuesday morning. The judge stated he had not profited any financially in the handling of 19 receiverships on the northern district bench.

'1914 Model' Prohi Speeches Scored by Crain, Dry Leader

United Battle Against Repeal Urged by President of Group Supporting 18th Amendment.

Asserting that "deacons and elders should go home and clean their own cellars" and that Georgia could not and should not retain the prohibition law unless the people of the state desire it, Dr. James H. Crain, president of the National Conference of Associations Supporting the Eighteenth Amendment, spoke before a group of dry leaders at Rich's tea room Wednesday.

"Too many dries," he said, "are giving 1914 model speeches, whereas the wets are making 1933, eight-cylinder appeals to the public. The 1914 four-cylinder dry speeches cannot hope to keep abreast of the latest model wet speech."

The speech was made before a meeting of the Allied Business Men of Atlanta, and was followed by a collection taken "to spread the movement to retain the prohibition law throughout the state."

Explaining that the organization he heads is made up of all the major groups working in the dry cause, Dr. Crain said that unless all dry bodies unite in a common fight against prohibition repeal the battle will be lost.

The meeting opened with Robert E. Mell, treasurer of the Consolidated Forces for Prohibition in Georgia, presiding. George Whitman and others reported on the statewide prohibition rally in Macon Tuesday, which Dr. Crain attended as a featured speaker. All reporting said that intense enthusiasm pervaded the meeting.

Asserting that 1933 was to be a crucial year in the fight for retention of prohibition, Dr. Crain said "the outlook is not discouraging." He asserted his belief that the eighteenth amendment will remain in the constitution.

"Social progress always is based upon men enacting laws of high ideals when fired with interest," he said, "and there is always a recession of zeal and interest. Such was the case following enactment of the prohibition act, but the recession will not swing as far back as it has surged forward."

Dr. Crain warned that the depression had aided the cause of the wets.

Counsel Quits Probe Of Stock Practices

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Irving Ben Cooper, a young investigator trained in the Samuel Seabury school, has resigned as counsel to a senate inquiry into stock market practices, but information from Washington today was that the inquiry would proceed.

In announcing his resignation last night, Cooper said Senator Peter G. Norbeck of South Dakota, chairman of the investigating committee, had denied him a "free hand." Norbeck, in Washington, declared the senatorial power could not be delegated.

"The resignation is not important," Norbeck said. "The investigation will proceed."

Until yesterday Cooper apparently had been proceeding with the preparation of material for the inquiry, which was expected to delve deeply into the Kreuger & Toll and Insull bankruptcies. He was said also, the New York Times declared, to be seeking information on large income tax evasions.

Costs of Game-Fish Department Lowest in U. S., Bulletin Shows

Georgia's department of game and fish is operated at a lower per capita cost than that of any other state in the Union, according to the January wild life conservation bulletin of the department. The Georgia per capita cost is $1.02, as compared to 1.47 for Louisiana, .13 cent for Virginia and .10 cent for Florida.

The Georgia department spent $38,587 in 1932, all revenues from the hunting and fishing license, to maintain its game and fish department. The department also has been placed in various sections to restock the forests.

Commissioner Twitty emphasized the fact that a landowner and his tenants do not have to buy a hunting license to hunt on the owner's property. Justice is being dispensed with mercy in cases of unfortunate persons out of employment or financially distressed. The department is of critical economic conditions. appropriations, according to the bulletin. Of this sum, $20,034.62, or 49.0 per cent, went for enforcement; $16,524.48, or 28.2 per cent, for general expenses; $9,814.31, or 15.5 per cent, for propagation, and $3,632.49, or 6.3 per cent, for education.

Receiving a large share of the department's revenue, enforcement is one of the most important of the department's functions, but education of the public in conservation and rehabilitation of the state's game preserves are equally important, it was pointed out.

In line with the department's policy, Commissioner Peter S. Twitty installed 96 deer in the north Georgia mountains, where there were none seven years ago, and today there are between 800 and 1,000 head in the mountains, where the preserves will be opened to the public in a few years, it was said.

The department has built a state fish hatchery at a cost to the taxpayers, and has placed 6,000,000 fish in Georgia waters. Other fish conservation work includes the recovery and restoration to running streams of several million fish following freshets. The department has purchased and distributed 12,000 Mexican quail to restock depleted coverts in Georgia. There are now in operation 22 co-op-

FEDERAL PAY CUT OPPOSED BY LABOR

Nation Must Adopt 30-Hour Week or Face Job Crisis, Says Green.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The Federation of Labor struck hard today for a shorter work week in industry, at the same time exerting itself to defeat further pay cuts for federal employees.

William Green, federation president, told the house labor committee that the country either must cut the hours of labor or face the prospect of maintaining permanently a large army of unemployed.

A little later he circulated the senate with a letter appealing for votes against the proposal pending in economy legislation to make the government's pay reduction an even 10 per cent. This year it amounts to 8.3 per cent.

"Three years of wage cutting have brought the country to the present point of human degradation and economic distress," he wrote. "It is inconceivable that we would add to this miserable situation through a reduction in buying power imposed upon government employees, followed, as it inevitably will be, by a further reduction in the wages paid those engaged in private employment."

Green told the house committee he believed the unemployment of 11,000,000 men and women was seriously affecting as much as 50 per cent of the population.

"Even if we introduce the five-day week and six-hour day there will still be some unemployed," he said, "but we must make these adjustments. If we don't we must reconcile ourselves to living in a country with a constant standing army of 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 unemployed."

He emphasized that in asking the 30-hour week he stood for maintenance of the full week pay base.

Questioned on the bill's constitutionality, Green said the supreme court had modified its attitude toward social legislation since its adverse decision on the child labor law and therefore there were "reasonable grounds for hope it would be held constitutional."

This view was challenged in another hearing on the same subject by Alfred P. Thom, counsel for the Association of Railway Executives. He maintained, before a senate judiciary subcommittee, that if such a law were passed the supreme court would throw it out.

Program Approved For Monetary Meeting

GENEVA, Switzerland, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The monetary subcommittee of experts today approved the following for the agenda of the world monetary and economic conference: First, monetary and credit policy; the conditions under which restoration of the gold standard would be possible; currency policy prior to that restoration; the functioning of the gold standard; silver.

Second, prices: The disequilibrium between prices and costs; measures for restoring equilibrium. Third, resumption of the movement of capital: The abolition of foreign exchange restrictions; existing indebtedness; the movement of capital.

The preparatory committee holds a plenary meeting tomorrow to coordinate the recommendations of the monetary subcommittee with those of the economic subcommittee.

Green said the supreme court had modified its attitude toward social legislation since its adverse decision on the child labor law and therefore there were "reasonable grounds for hope it would be held constitutional."

This view was challenged in another hearing on the same subject by Alfred P. Thom, counsel for the Association of Railway Executives. He maintained, before a senate judiciary subcommittee, that if such a law were passed the supreme court would throw it out.

Police Trial Is Set For Cops in Crash

Trial of Lieutenant E. C. Hudson and Motorcycle Patrolman T. F. Geeslin on charges of being drunk and having whisky in an automobile driven by Geeslin, will be held before the police board at its February 2 meeting, Chief T. O. Sturdivant announced Wednesday.

Both officers have been suspended pending trial and Wednesday affidavits were filed with Chief Sturdivant by witnesses who saw the Geeslin car crash on the Bankhead highway last Saturday with a car driven by Ronald Smith, of 1808 Evans drive, N. W. Mrs. Smith was severely injured.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Atlanta Retail Druggists' Association will be held Friday evening at a 7 o'clock dinner at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

There will be a brief entertainment program, followed by the annual report of President L. S. James, a brief address by a prominent speaker, and the nomination and election of 1933 officers.

The Atlanta Retail Druggists' Association is affiliated with the Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association. The present officers are: L. S. James, president; H. F. Free, vice president; W. J. Gower, secretary-treasurer; L. L. Austin, executive secretary.

Officers re-elected by Georgia Bottlers. Old officers were re-elected and three new executive committeemen were named at Wednesday's concluding session of the Georgia Bottlers' Association convention at the Piedmont hotel.

The new committeemen are J. S. Moncrief, of Savannah; Don Bryan, of Macon, and C. W. Shartle Jr., of Atlanta. W. G. Brinsdine, of Fort Valley, president; M. H. Goodwin, of Thomasville, vice president, and Fred S. Gould, Atlanta, secretary-treasurer, were re-elected. The next meeting will be held in Macon at a time to be set later.

A limited form of dictatorship to hold down government expense is needed in the opinion of Junior Owens, of Washington, secretary of the American Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages. He urged further organization to fight unfair local taxation.

The public resents paying 6 cents for a bottled drink," he said, "but with one-third of our capital investment in bottles of a fixed size, we have no choice."

Addresses by John Edmondson, of the Coca-Cola Company, on local taxation, and C. V. Rainwater, of "Getting Back to Fundamentals," followed Mr. Owens' talk.

"FORGET-ME-NOT" DRIVE WILL BE HELD FRIDAY. Ninety committees will take the field in downtown streets early Friday morning in the annual "Forget-Me-Not" campaign conducted by the Atlanta chapter, Disabled American Veterans, according to Jesse S. Hall, commander. More than 1,000 women from Fulton and DeKalb counties, under the direction of Mrs. Henry M. Nichols, chairman of the drive, will take part.

Commander Hall said that no remuneration of any kind is paid the workers and that every penny will be used for relief of veterans who are unemployed and who are "not drawing adequate compensation from the government."

The performance was being given at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, and Lauri-Volpi already was in costume. Suddenly and inexplicably his vocal chords tightened so that he could not speak. His health had been good and there was no warning that his voice might fail.

Lauri-Volpi's ailment was diagnosed as "clergyman's sore throat," a swelling over the vocal chords which is easily curable.

pains in my shoulders, arms and legs I could hardly dress myself or step up a step. I had lost about thirty pounds in weight and felt like I was losing all the strength and vitality I had.

"Sargon and Sargon Pills took hold and started driving the poisons out of my system almost from the first dose and by the time I'd finished three bottles, every pain I had was gone! I've gained back twenty pounds and feel like a new man. For trouble like I had, Sargon just can't be beat."

The amazing success achieved by Sargon is not only phenomenal, but unprecedented. So startling have been the results obtained from this new scientific formula, physicians, chemists and public health authorities have been astounded and gratified at its remarkable health and strength-building powers.

COTTON MAN RAPS
ALLOTMENT PLANMeasure Would Increase
Nation's Unemployment, Says E. N. Wood.

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—(P)—Vigorous opposition to the domestic allotment plan for farm relief, now before congress, was voiced today by Ernest N. Hood, president of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

"In this period of unemployment," said Hood, "such a law will make more unemployment. It will cause hesitation in trade; it will disrupt wholesale and retail merchandising. It will reduce exports and increase imports."

"The effect of this plan will be to put a 7-cent tax per pound on cotton. As a result there will be increases of from 18 to 70 per cent in cotton yarns and cotton fabrics of various descriptions."

"Denims used largely for overalls and other work clothing will cost 44 per cent more. The housewife will be required to pay 36 per cent more for sheets. For yarns used in underwear, price increases will be from 47 to 70 per cent."

"These price increases to consumers whose buying power is now strangled will certainly curtail their purchases of cotton goods and cause a reduction in the consumption of cotton."

"We are all interested in the welfare of the farmer. He is the prime producer of new wealth. Any sound measure designed to restore the farmer's economic condition and increase his buying power would have our interest from a purely selfish standpoint if for no other reason."

"This proposal, however, which seems destined to reduce consumption of cotton and to lower the selling price of raw cotton to the farmer will not accomplish its purpose and will not help the farmer."

"It is estimated that the passage of such a law will reduce domestic consumption of cotton by a million or more bales per year and such a reduction will be a tragedy for the cotton farmer."

"Such a reduction in the domestic use of cotton will increase the supply of cotton for use in the rest of the world and, coming on top of the present unworldly surplus, will almost certainly cause a drop in the world price of cotton so that it is fair to conclude that the portion of the farmer's crop on which no bonus is paid, amounting to over 60 per cent, will fall in value so materially that it will be a large part, if not entirely, offset the effect of any bonus payment."

TALMADGE TELLS
NEW AUTO BUYERS
TO AWAIT ACTION

Governor Eugene Talmadge has advised owners of new automobiles, purchased this year, to put on their cars where the license plates would be, a sign reading:

"Waiting for the legislature to act." The governor in his campaign advocated a flat rate of $3 for auto tags. Later, he asked the legislature, then in 10-day session, to stay here long enough to enact the $3 tax law and emergency legislation.

J. T. Duggan, of Brunswick, wrote the governor's office, said a dispatch from Brunswick, asking what to do about driving a new car without a license tag.

The governor replied: "I have your letter of January 13. Just put on the back of your car stating that you are waiting for the legislature to act. If you have any further trouble just let me know." Mr. Duggan said he had been stopped by a state license inspector.

"I have written a lot of letters like that recently," the governor said today.

The period for buying auto tags legally ends on February 1, but usually the time is extended to March 1. Automobile license plates for passenger cars now sell at from $11.25 to $25. It is for these cars that Mr. Talmadge seeks the flat $3 rate.

TRAFFIC MANAGERS
OF E. A. T. IN SOUTH
HOLD SESSION HERE

A meeting of the traffic representatives of the southern division of Eastern Air Transport, presided over by John K. Otley Jr., division traffic manager, was held Wednesday and Thursday night at the Ansley hotel. Those attending were: E. E. Stone, Charlotte; J. E. Simkins, Spartanburg; R. J. MacFarland and T. G. Williamson, Greenville; R. W. Boyd, Camden; George Dyson, Augusta; R. J. Litterer, Macon, and R. E. Jones and Sam Wilkes, of Atlanta.

A feature of the meeting was a talk by Hurd Crain, general agent of Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, on "Salesmanship."

Mr. Otley said that air passenger and express traffic over the lines of Eastern Air during 1932 showed decided increases over the previous year, and that the meeting was called for the purpose of discussing plans for the development of traffic during 1933.

DOUBLE RITES PLANNED FOR VICTIMS OF POISON

While Nat Pratt, 13, is recovering from poison which his mother, Mrs. Virginia Fraser Pratt, gave him Tuesday morning, his mother and 11-year-old sister, Virginia, dead of the same poison, will be buried side by side in the cemetery this morning. Funeral services will be held at 10:30 o'clock this morning at Wesley Memorial church, with Dr. R. L. Russell, Dr. W. A. Shelton and Rev. R. A. Edmondson officiating.

Emory University hospital, where the boy was taken in an unconscious condition Tuesday, reported Wednesday that the boy's condition was good and that he will recover.

A coroner's jury reported that Mrs. Pratt took the life of her daughter and herself with poison "while temporarily deranged." They were found dead in their room early Tuesday morning by a negro maid.

THE ONLY WAY OUT!

The bill introduced by Representatives Franklin, of Lowndes, and Park, of Bibb, seeking relief for the common school teachers, the pensioners of the state, and the back payment due the state's institutions, through the diversion of $7,500,000 of the funds of the highway department, and the similar bill asking a diversion of $4,014,000, introduced by Representatives Spivey, Mundy, Arnall and Lanier, seek the soundest and sanest method of straightening out the tangled financial affairs of the state.

Nobody wants to cripple the activities of the highway department, but there is no valid reason why that department, under present conditions, should be permitted to operate at full blast at a time when economy is the watchword with every branch of government and business.

It has been asserted that the department could perform all of its necessary maintenance work, care for the replacement of machinery and its executive overhead and construct several hundred miles of new paving during the current year on an income of $10,000,000. If so, there can be no question of the wisdom of holding its revenue to that sum, in view of the deplorable condition of the other branches of the state's government.

The $7,500,000 deficit and the starvation diet of most of the state's institutions is a reflection on the state. Since 1924 the total income of the state has increased from $16,212,000 to $28,176,000, but the special allocations have increased from $5,972,000 to $18,384,000, leaving a net decrease of nearly a million dollars in the amount available to pay general appropriations, despite the $8,000,000 increase in all revenues. By far the greater part of the increase in allocated funds is due to the growth of the gasoline tax from $3,000,000 to $12,000,000, most of which goes to the highway department.

With the top-heavy revenue of the highway department, as compared with the income of the state's other departments, the only thing to do is to use the knife on the highway revenues in order that other departments of the state's administrative activities may not be crippled.

Under present conditions, the state's teachers are being forced to hawk their salaries, and the few remaining Confederate veterans are suffering untold hardships because of their failure to receive their pensions promptly. Other departments are, generally, in a similar condition and a situation is presented that is a shame and a disgrace to Georgia.

The state is in the attitude of the head of a family of children, several of whom are being starved, and clothed in rags, while a pampered child is living on the fat of the land.

The principle is basically wrong. Nobody would unnecessarily cut the revenue of the highway department, but it is not fair nor just that every other branch of the state's activities should be starved while one department is receiving twice as much as was deemed possible 10 years ago, or even then regarded as necessary for the development of the state's system of paved highways.

An organized propaganda against the suggestion of diversion has been carried on during the past few weeks, form resolutions having been sent out from Atlanta for adoption by the various boards of county commissioners in the state. It is significant that some of the representatives are from counties where these resolutions were adopted, and were elected on a straight-out issue of diversion.

Whether or not this propaganda avails to the extent of blocking this wise step, the fact remains that the members sponsoring the bills introduced Wednesday have hit upon the best method of liquidating the state's indebtedness.

It is a business question and, if handled in a business way, some such measure will be enacted. It is the only way to free the state of debt, and that should be the first consideration of this session of the general assembly.

STRAUS FOR THE CABINET.

It is understood that the name of Jesse Isidor Straus is being urged upon President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt for appointment to the cabinet as secretary of commerce.

The selection of Mr. Straus for this portfolio would be an ideal one and would bring added security and stability to American business as it makes it way back to normalcy. Few men in the United States have been so successful in record in business as Mr. Straus.

As the head of the great mercantile firm of R. H. Macy & Co., as director of numerous leading financial and insurance companies, and as president of the National Dry Goods Association, he has acquired a thorough knowledge of business conditions, not only in this country but in every section of the world.

In addition to his peculiar fitness for a portfolio requiring the services of a businessman of outstanding ability, Mr. Straus is a member of a family with a distinguished background of public and humanitarian service. His father, Isidor Straus, as a member of congress, worked valiantly for tariff and currency reform and was offered the portfolio of postmaster general by President Cleveland. Oscar Straus, an uncle, was minister to Turkey under two administrations and secretary of commerce and labor under a third.

The United States has no more distinguished family in its contributions to the public welfare than the one of which Mr. Straus is an outstanding member. In finance, trade, diplomacy, education and benefactions they have earned the respect and admiration of their fellow countrymen. Jesse Isidor Straus is an able and worthy representative of this group of distinguished Americans.

In addition to his eminent qualification for appointment to the cabinet, he was one of the first and most ardent of the supporters of the pre-convention candidacy of Governor Roosevelt, forming both local and national organizations which played a vital part in the selection of the democratic nominee. President Roosevelt could not make a cabinet selection that would be more generally approved and that would bring to his cabinet better ability to assist in solving the many problems that will confront his administration.

A thrifty friend of ours offers an interesting bit of logic. "Sobering up must be very harmful and unnatural," he says, "else it wouldn't give you a headache."

Scotch joke No. 9,098,567: "Send that charity organization my best regards. . . . Wait! Make it my second best. I've got to watch the corners these days."

A solemn thought for you serious thinkers: It takes 10,000 years to build a coral reef and it's no good after it's built.

Technocracy sounds about as practical as a certain doctor's remedy for sea-sickness. "When you feel it coming on," he said, "you should go and sit under a tree."

Philosophy of the political experts: "If I use big enough words in saying 'I don't know' it'll sound like I do know."

Regardless of what caused the depression, this much is certain: the fiddler is being paid by a lot of us who didn't dance.

No, Genevieve. The national song of Sweden is not Swede Ade-line.

The favorite song of the politicians: "He Didn't Say Yes; He Didn't Say No."

Cheer up, folks. The zookeepers say that 10 years is the maximum life span for a wolf.

A henpecked man in Hollywood is truly out of luck. A yes-man all day and a yes-man all night.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

Universal Get Together.

When the situation in France became bad towards the end of the monarchy the people sent their notables to Paris to deliberate. This was not a simple convocation of parliament, it was a national assembly, a sort of super-parliament. Representatives from all the estates, that is to say all three classes, nobility, clergy and bourgeoisie were present. The day may come when we will see national assemblies everywhere, not only in France this time. A great big gathering sitting in the capitals, deliberating, scheming, planning, sweating if necessary until a solution has been found. Economists should be heard, politicians, labor leaders, military men, committees should be struck off to examine details and guards should be put at the doors of those assemblies to see that the delegates stuck to business and came to an agreement.

And then an international assembly should be called, a world's parliament to formulate a common policy for all. Some nations might have to sacrifice some of their privileges, but in some advantageous positions, but in the end we would all benefit. All nonsense, of course. Such a thing will never happen. But what a thing it would be to have to happen if we are to get out of this universal chaos.

France's New Man.

He may be out again by the time these words are printed, but for the moment Joseph Paul-Boncour is prime minister of France. Joseph is his Christian name. Paul being part of his surname. He resembles the late Bonaparte in appearance, but not in the same impressive face, the same marvelous oratorical talents and the same hair. He is 60 years of age and has a long career in politics. He served as a major at the front during the war. He could have stayed home, for he was a member of parliament. Yet he chose to exchange the warm and comfortable corridors of the house of parliament for the cheerless and dangerous dugouts and trenches of the line. This he did because, being a socialist all his life, M. Boncour felt himself one with the masses.

To make speeches at a moment when millions were facing death every minute of their lives, was not possible with Paul-Boncour. On the battlefield he gained a definite reputation for his bravery and the fulfillment of his duty. Yet he is a kind of patriot. But a patriot of the kind who wants to see his country go on in the future. For several years he has been chairman of the parliamentary commission for disarmament. He has been a member of the committee for the cause of disarmament in which he is a firm believer. Now that he is prime minister, he is following in the steps of his predecessor, Edouard Herriot, and Aristide Briand. The armament lobby in Geneva has no great love for Paul-Boncour. Their propaganda has been to keep the peace, first, last and all the time. That is one of the reasons that he will not last long in office. Yet this is only his first ministry. Other opportunities will come in the future. The composition of the French parliament is such that it is not likely that either Herriot or Boncour or one of their colleagues takes the helm. The present chamber is decidedly on the left. This will not change for the next four years. The next election is held in fact, and perhaps there will be no change even then.

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

MIRACULOUS RESTORATION OF SIGHT TO BLIND

In his instructive little book "What Every One Should Know About the Eyes" (Funk & Wagnalls Co.) Dr. P. Park Lewis tells us that blindness is what we blind, totally blind. She was the child of highly neurotic parents. Her parents, uncles, aunts and the neighbors had freely discussed the child's failing eyesight and the increasing difficulty of using her eyes. In the child's presence, the mother would exclaim: "Nellie, don't look at that!" or "Nellie, don't look at that!" or "Nellie, don't look at that!"

Then one day they took her to an oculist in a near-by city, with the entire family accompanying her on the train. She was fairly seasick about the bad condition of blindness and other things that neurotic people like to talk about.

The oculist found the child's eyes exceedingly far-sighted, one eye more so than the other (as is not unusual) but less than half the normal sight. There was nothing wrong with Nellie's eyes, but for the time being she could not see objects smaller than the fingers at a distance of three feet with the better eye, and with the poorer eye she could not see the light of a 40-watt lamp directly before her.

This is psychic blindness, a form of hysteria. Hysteria is a state in which an idea has control of the body and the mind does not respond to the normal sense impressions which require psychic treatment.

The better eye was bandaged and the child was asked to shut the eyes of the blind eye. "How dreadful! Nellie is growing blind!" And promptly, Nellie, responding to the suggestion, did become blind. There was nothing wrong with Nellie's eyes, but for the time being she could not see objects smaller than the fingers at a distance of three feet with the better eye, and with the poorer eye she could not see the light of a 40-watt lamp directly before her.

It was one of the conditions in which suggestion is effective. Had the little blind girl come under the spell of some blatant charlatan or some freak mental healer or hypnotist or perhaps some religious healer, the restoration of her sight would have been a great miracle. But being under medical care it was of small significance.

Hysterical or psychic blindness is the kind of blindness that is often cured by some such suggestion. I have seen the records of several such cases. I have never found a dependable record of cure of real blindness by miraculous means.

If the Little Foxes Eat the Grapes, Blame the Law That Protects Foxes

By Robert Quillen

The American people create a vast surplus of wealth. Having created it, they look for a place to invest it. And numerous institutions, of more or less rectitude, provide means to accommodate them. Business corporations have issued stocks and bonds that aggregate more than $150,000,000,000.

The total of bank stocks still exceeds three and one-half billions. Real estate mortgages total approximately $44,000,000,000. And bonds issued by the various divisions of government exceed 35 billions.

In other words, the American people have accumulated and invested within the borders of their own country something more than $232,000,000,000—approximately 10 times the sum required to pay the national debt.

What do the people have to show for their investments? They have engraved pieces of paper called "securities."

That actual security do these "securities" provide? Not one investor in a thousand knows. Perhaps no man knows.

The federal bonds are worth their face value, whatever their quoted price, for all the wealth of the government guarantees their redemption at maturity.

The other "securities" may be worth much or little. Some of them are worth nothing at all. They were issued with intent to defraud, and the wealth they represent was obtained under false pretenses.

If the first business of government is to protect its citizens, and the ordinary investor cannot know the worth of "securities" that are offered him, isn't it the duty of government to protect him from fraud?

The government cannot guarantee the worth of "securities" as it guarantees currency. But it can protect the investor.

It can imprison any man who issues "securities" and offers them for sale without government examination and approval.

And it can imprison any man who disposes of "securities" by means of misrepresentation or concealment of the truth.

That is a form of theft, and therefore within the jurisdiction of criminal law—despite the protest of those who can't see beyond a precedent.

It would seem revolutionary to protect honest men and be unkind to rogues, but it would arouse little protest. Nobody objects to padlocks except thieves.

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 18.—The motion picture industry is in a standing example of "type appeal" in Hollywood.

"There is no such thing as sex appeal," says this artist with conviction. "A woman has beauty only in the eyes of the beholder. She is not a commodity to be sold, and she is not a commodity to be bought. She is a woman, and she is a woman."

Mr. Roosevelt said there was no connection between Norman Davis' conference on the train tomorrow and the White House party. Explaining that this was his only opportunity to talk over the forthcoming world economic and arms conferences with Davis, who was working on the agenda for the former.

Smilingly objecting to the use of the word "conference" in newspaper accounts of the White House meeting, the president-elect said he suggested the meeting first when he talked with Secretary Stimson here last week. The formal invitation for the meeting was received last night.

Whatever general things he and the president will talk over Friday, it seems certain that foreign relations will be among them. Ever since his conversation with Secretary Stimson, Mr. Roosevelt has been busy with important callers have been identified with this field of activity.

Personnel of Party.
The group has included Colonel E. M. House, adviser of President Wilson; Senator Swanson, of Virginia, ranking member of the foreign relations committee; and James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany; Sumner Welles and Frank L. Polk, former under-secretaries of state.

One democratic senator remarked today that in following the plan "you meet yourself coming back." Another said it should be "trial out on the dock" and a third referred to it as a "perpetual motion" scheme.

On the other hand, the bill has some vigorous supporters, notably Representative John A. Blaine, a member of the house agriculture committee who gave it a favorable report.

Even some of the leading proponents of the bill flatly predicted it would be vetoed by President Hoover if passed. Because of this and the extreme unpopularity of the bill, it is expected that the prospects of the bill becoming law at this session are not regarded highly.

Added to that is the likelihood, pointed out by Chester Gray, legislative representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, that the bill would be fought in congress by the packers or millers on the ground of constitutionality and that the litigation would keep it from becoming operative for a long time.

ROOSEVELT SENT ON HOOPER PARLEY

Conference at White House To Be Only General in Nature, He Believes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—President-elect Roosevelt today accepted the president-elect's invitation to accompany him on a tour of the Muscle Shoals power plant and nitrate plant over the week-end.

Norris has been pressing for years for government operation of the huge Alabama project.

Other senators likely to accompany Mr. Roosevelt are McKellar and Hull, of Tennessee, and Bankhead, of Alabama, democrats.

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON.
NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(AP)—President-elect Roosevelt today accepted the president-elect's invitation to accompany him on a tour of the Muscle Shoals power plant and nitrate plant over the week-end.

He told newspapermen this morning and emphasized that he did not know of anything particular to be expected from the meeting. He said he did not know if anyone would accompany him to the White House.

An imposing array of guests were preparing to accompany Mr. Roosevelt on the train to Washington early tomorrow, including Norris, Stimson, and Raymond.

Mr. Roosevelt said there was no connection between Norman Davis' conference on the train tomorrow and the White House party.

Explaining that this was his only opportunity to talk over the forthcoming world economic and arms conferences with Davis, who was working on the agenda for the former.

Smilingly objecting to the use of the word "conference" in newspaper accounts of the White House meeting, the president-elect said he suggested the meeting first when he talked with Secretary Stimson here last week.

The formal invitation for the meeting was received last night.

Whatever general things he and the president will talk over Friday, it seems certain that foreign relations will be among them.

Ever since his conversation with Secretary Stimson, Mr. Roosevelt has been busy with important callers have been identified with this field of activity.

Personnel of Party.
The group has included Colonel E. M. House, adviser of President Wilson; Senator Swanson, of Virginia, ranking member of the foreign relations committee; and James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany; Sumner Welles and Frank L. Polk, former under-secretaries of state.

One democratic senator remarked today that in following the plan "you meet yourself coming back." Another said it should be "trial out on the dock" and a third referred to it as a "perpetual motion" scheme.

On the other hand, the bill has some vigorous supporters, notably Representative John A. Blaine, a member of the house agriculture committee who gave it a favorable report.

COUNCIL TO STUDY CITY'S FINANCES

Resumption of Adjourned Session Slated; Anticipation Draws Fire.

For the second time within four days, council this afternoon will be confronted with the proposition of adopting a January finance sheet, and a fight on the round-table adopted budget of Wednesday afternoon is slated for a heated attack by opponents of raises in salaries of about a score of employees.

During a round-table meeting of the finance committee and other council members Wednesday afternoon, the finance committee voted to ask council to rescind its action in anticipating an additional $100,000 in collections of fl. fas. and in allocating the fund to the school department. Decision of the committee followed a statement by Joe C. Little, senior tax assessor, that he did not believe the money would be forthcoming.

Roosevelt To Attend Photographers' Dance

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt today added still another entry on his crowded engagement calendar for the period prior to his inauguration as president, and this engagement is for a dance.

He accepted an invitation to the annual dinner and dance of the Press Photographers' Association on February 17, a function which is yearly attended by celebrities of the stage and screen and other persons whose pictures are often published.

Virtually no changes were made in the original sheet at Wednesday's meeting of the finance committee, but strong opposition to any salary increases "under the guise of salary adjustments" developed, and a council bloc will be formed to prevent any increase in salary of any of the council members. Councilman Raymond Curtis, of the tenth, and Councilman Homer C. Foster, of the ninth, were regarded as leaders of this wing.

McSWAIN INTRODUCES NEW CURRENCY BILL

Representative Seeks To Remonetize Silver, Ban Gold Exports.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—A three-w bill which would expand the currency, remonetize silver and prevent the export of gold, was introduced today by Representative McSwain, democrat, South Carolina.

The currency expansion proposals in the measure closely follow the lines of one introduced by Representative Bushy, democrat, Mississippi, which would provide for a maximum issue of $3,000,000,000, secured by b-nis. The money would be used by the treasury to pay current running expenses and indebtedness of the government.

The silver clauses of the McSwain bill would direct the treasury to buy $10,000,000 in silver at one cent above the market price per ounce each month until $1,000,000,000 had been purchased and made into silver dollars.

The written permission of the federal reserve board would be necessary to export gold and then only for the payment of actual trade balances.

Slaying of Student Puzzles Jersey Police

PALMYRA, N. J., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Conflicting evidence of murder and suicide today confronted police seeking the answer to the mysterious death of Bradley Brown, 25-year-old Philadelphia business executive, whose body was found pierced by two bullets.

An autopsy that lasted three hours Tuesday failed to turn up anything to prove either theory.

Ellis Parker, noted chief of the Burlington county detectives, said much of the evidence at hand supported his early belief that the young social registerite ended his own life.

His body was found in a rooming house, was found shot to death as police broke into the living room of his home in Cinnaminson township, Monday night.

PARASITE BIG AID TO PRODUCTION OF SUGAR CANE

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 18.—(AP)—A very small insect with a top-heavy name accounts for a substantial increase in production in sections of Louisiana's sugar cane belt during the season just closed, and will be called upon to carry on the good work on a wider front this year, Louisiana State University agricultural extension service said today in a report on the trichogramma minute, a parasite which has proved a blessing to the state's cane growers.

It was a big day for the sugar industry when science found out that the tiny insect, which may be called "trichy" for short, is an arch enemy of the sugarcane borer, which has cost Louisiana growers hundreds of thousands of dollars annually for years by eating into the cane stalks and emptying them of their sweetness.

Now, the L. S. U. service says "trichy" has the borer on the run.

Tests last year in St. Mary parish showed an average of 1,000 more pounds of sugar per acre were produced in the fields when the trichogramma minute was deliberately released to attack and feed on the borers.

The cost of the parasite offensive was about $1 per acre while the increased yield was worth $20 per acre, a net profit of $19 per acre to the credit of the "trichy" army.

MRS. SAYRE LEAVES $12,000 TO CHILDREN

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, daughter of former President Wilson, left $12,000 to be shared equally by her three children, according to the terms of her will filed for probate today.

She also divided jewelry and a silver service among the children. These included the service given her as a wedding present by the United States senate and a diamond necklace she received as a wedding gift from the house of representatives. There was no estimate of the value of the estate, the residue of which goes to her widow.

Ear-Wiggling Not Much, Michigander Declares

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 18.—(AP)—It's nothing to boast about if you can wiggle your ears.

Such persons, Professor R. C. Hussey told his historical geology class at University of Michigan, have just inherited a muscular trick common to man's remote ancestors.

And if your hair stands on end when you are frightened, Professor Hussey added, it's just an activation of other holdovers or vestigial muscles possessed by man's distant ape-like ancestors, whose hair bristled in anger and fright.

New Atlanta Far Eastern Society Will Organize at Jan. 23 Meeting

Organization of a Far Eastern Society of Atlanta for the purpose of holding round-table discussions of affairs among the nations bordering on the Pacific ocean, is being effected by a group of Atlantans who have either been engaged in business, or who have traveled extensively, in that section of the world.

An organization meeting has been set for Monday, January 23, and invitations have been sent out to more than a hundred Atlantans. The invited speaker will be Akira Sato, Japanese consul at New Orleans, and subsequent meetings will be addressed by outstanding Chinese, Filipinos, Koreans and former residents of Hawaii.

Announcement is made in the invitations being sent out that the purpose of the society will be to enable those interested in far eastern affairs to get together for a dinner and round table discussion at least once a month. The dates of the meetings will be set to coincide with the presence in the south of outstanding residents of the far east who could be obtained to address the society.

The first meeting will be in the nature of a dinner at the Biltmore hotel to be followed by Mr. Sato's address and the showing of motion pictures of scenes in the Manchurian territory now being disputed by Japan and China. Following the formal part of the program, an organizational meeting of the society will be held and permanent officers named to conduct its affairs in future.

The preliminary work of bringing those together who are interested in far eastern affairs has been done by a group composed of Carter R. Whitaker, formerly American vice consul at Foochow, China, and Yokohama, Japan; William A. Dunlap, of the Atlanta Foreign Trade and Travel Club; Francis W. Clarke, of the Constitution, a member of the party of journalists sent to the far east in 1920 by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace; and Sadajiro Yoshinuma, former Japanese student at Oglethorpe, who has entered business in Atlanta. Mr. Whitaker has acted as secretary for the organization group and those wishing to join the society and attend the dinner next Monday can reach him at his residence, 278 Tenth street, N. E.

WOMAN ACID THROWER BURNS ARKANSAS GIRL

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Miss Gladys Strickland, 19, told newspaper reporters from her hospital bed today that the woman who entered her room in a downtown rooming house last night and threw acid in her face was a stranger she had never seen before.

Physicians said that Miss Strickland's burns were not as serious as they had thought at first, and that there was a possibility her face would not be disfigured.

Miss Strickland said she was talking with a man with whom she had been keeping company for about nine months when the strange woman entered without warning or explanation, opened a small bottle and threw its acid contents in her face.

ARMS CONFERENCE STUDIED BY WOMEN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Carrie Chapman Catt, 74-year-old peace campaigner who mapped the work of the woman's conference on war's cause and cure now in full swing here, today turned the thoughts of her following definitely to the arms conference scheduled to reconvene later this month in Geneva.

Women who yesterday listened to Miss Mary E. Woolley, only American woman delegate, told the difficulties of "debt debate" and far eastern "menace" confronting the conference, were asked today: "What can we do to help the situation in Geneva?"

Miss Woolley herself, making two appearances before the group, suggested that they concentrate their efforts on "four 1's"—information, interest, influence, and impact, explaining the last word was chosen to indicate the course to take with congress.

U. S. COURT DISMISSES ATTACK ON DRY LAW

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 18.—(AP)—A contention that the eighteenth amendment became invalid seven years after its submission was unsuccessful before the United States circuit court of appeals today.

Brought in the name of Williams vs. the United States of America, an appeal from the Baltimore district court was based principally on the language of section three of the article: "This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified by the legislatures of the several states as provided in the constitution within seven years from the date of submission hereof."

THREE VIRGINIANS KILLED BY ALCOHOL

GEORGIA'S "Golden Isles" ... Birthplace of American Agriculture

A FACT not generally known, and one of great significance to Georgians on our state's 200th Anniversary, is that the white man's agriculture in America actually had its beginning on the "Golden Isles" that fringe the coast of Georgia.

By 1566 Spanish Missions dotted these islands and, with the help of Indian labor, orchards were laid out, fields cultivated. Nearly fifty years before Jamestown, more than a century and a half before the actual founding of the state, agriculture was flourishing in soil that was later to become Georgia.

From that day to this Georgia's agriculture has steadily grown to a position of dominance. Year after year Georgia has been second only to Texas, a state four times as large, in the value of her cotton crop. Yet cotton represents only one-third the total value of our agricultural production. Georgia leads the world in her annual harvest of watermelons, sweet potatoes, peanuts and paper shell pecans. In the production of peaches she leads the South, and is second in the production of cane syrup. Farms in 1930, the latest accurate figures, embraced 22,078,630 acres, over half of which represented improved land. Approximately half of Georgia's population lives on farms which were evaluated in 1930 at nearly three-quarters of a billion dollars.

Usefulness to Georgia agriculture has naturally been a primary objective of The First National Bank of Atlanta, during all of its 67-year history. Today, with service to hundreds of correspondent banks throughout the state and the southeast, and with its 100,000,000-dollar statewide banking group, each member intimately identified with agriculture in its section, First National service is more convenient and more readily accessible to the state's agricultural industry than ever before.

Averages Close Feb 10 for National Duckpin Meet at Hartford

They were telling this story yesterday in one of the lobbies (hotel) where a group had got together. A legislator in Kentucky introduced a bill calling for an appropriation of $25,000 for a small denominational college in his district.

It was illegal to appropriate money for this institution, since it wasn't a state school. But no one wanted to make him angry. The idea was to get him to withdraw the bill. So they sent a fixer to see him.

"Say," he said, "are you a graduate of this school?"

"I should say not," said the legislator. "I never went past the eighth grade."

"Then why do you want the money?"

"Well, I told the folks back in my district I'd get about $25,000 to spend there."

"Well, listen. I don't know if you are aware of the fact but did you know that school had a curriculum?"

"A what?"

"A curriculum. I'll bet you didn't know they had one."

"I sure didn't."

"And I'm wondering if you knew they had semesters?"

"Had what?"

"Semesters."

"No, how many have they got?"

"Two," said the fixer, seeing his man was groggery.

"Well, I sure didn't know that."

"And that's not all. They've got a bursary and the pupils have to pay money to it to stay there."

"Listen," said the legislator, "I'll bet the folks at home don't know that. That bill of mine is coming out of there."

Dear old Kentucky. I wonder if it's true that all legislators have boys like that? Or has Kentucky a monopoly on them?

THE NEW SCHOLARSHIP PLAN.

One cannot blame the holder of an athletic scholarship, who is doing the best he can to master his textbooks and graduate, if he finds himself in a somewhat obfuscated condition, to say the least, when he hears the rodomontade thunderings of the pure in heart.

Because it seems to be that every year there is a great howdy-do about the Rhodes scholarships, as there should be. The pictures of the young men winning the scholarships are in the papers and a lot of Latin, such as cum laude, eurenthe calamo, is spread around to make it difficult for the fellow who is holding to the street car strap and trying to take in the news on the way to the office.

And yet the Rhodes scholar is taking something which is something of an athletic scholarship. When the late Cecil Rhodes, the British-South African statesman and administrator, left the money for scholarships to further the cause of international understanding and amity, he provided that in estimating the worth of the candidate his athletic ability should count for 20 per cent.

And a great many of the Rhodes scholars from America have come back to this country with athletic teams and crews and not once has the old finger of scorn been leveled at them. Yet part of their scholarships is athletic.

The Southeastern conference is going to provide measures which will make an athletic scholarship similar to the Rhodes scholarship in this respect—the holder of one must maintain a certain grade to keep it.

There was never anything wrong with athletic scholarships per se. They were never the rich largesses which the critics would have us believe. Usually they paid a fellow's board or his room rent. Rarely more. There was nothing wrong with them. They encouraged no wild spending, recklessness or inattention to work. The new plan makes them perfectly satisfactory.

The Southeastern conference, composed of Georgia, Georgia Tech, Alabama, Tennessee, Vanderbilt, Auburn, Tulane, L. S. U., Mississippi, Florida, Mississippi A. & M., Kentucky and Sewanee, gives every indication of becoming one of the strongest and most progressive athletic conferences in the nation. It is, of course, the leading one in the south and south-east.

THEY DON'T RETAIN.

There was a stirring meeting of the Southern conference in 1926, at which time a request was made to the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools that it investigate athletics in the Southern conference.

And so the association did. And made certain recommendations. And a month later when the Southern conference met it told the association it had nothing to do with athletics and to please be quiet about it. The recommendations were almost entirely disregarded. The author of them insisted on them being maintained at his own school but that was all.

And now comes the Southern association asking for the same thing again. They don't retain, it seems. The Southern conference, known now as "The Little Ten" since the resignation of the 13 institutions which formed the more progressive Southeastern conference, should look up its past records. Maybe it does need investigating.

REAL EXPERTS.

At the recent opening of the Bobby Jones golf course at the Augusta National golf course, one of the visitors, a cotton mill executive, was besieged for advice by a man from New York.

"I'll give you the telephone numbers of a lot of experts in New York," he said, and jotted down some numbers on an envelope for the insistent person.

"They are all telephone numbers of beautiful blondes," said the expert as the insistent person went away, "and I'm sure they can help him."

And I'd like to know what happened when the New York man got back home and called the numbers.

ALAS, POOR NELSON.

The British navies, or the bulwark of Old England, has sent over its champion fighter. He is Seaman Watson, and he is, of all things, a featherweight. The old scrappers of the British navy must have turned over in Davy Jones' locker at the news.

The marine corps produced in Gene Tunney one of the really great champions. The gobs have produced Jack Sharkey. You may take him or leave him. He is a great boxer.

Our cousins across the sea haven't done so well with their military units. There was Bombardier Wells—who spent most of his time on the canvas. And now comes Seaman Watson. Three American preliminary boys roughed him up a bit but he has some box office appeal and we'll see him. But what are the navies of the world doing—producing featherweights?

THE TENT AND AWNING CONVENTION.

Mr. Tubby Walton has been asked to deny that he is signed up to model for the next convention of the tent and awning people.

RUTH REFUSES 'COME-ON GUY' ROLE FOR YANKS

Says He Will Not Be Used To Make Others Take Cuts.

By Jack Cuddy,

United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(UP)—Babe Ruth, whose prowess boosted baseball salaries to unprecedented heights, apparently has been singled out by major league club owners to lead players back to lower pay checks.

They've hung baseball's biggest salary reduction about his neck and started him off at the head of the procession.

That's why the Babe is fuming angry over this $25,000 slash the New York Yankees have offered him on a one-year contract for 1933. He doesn't relish being used as a "come-on guy" who might induce fellow players to accept lower wages.

NOT WORRIED.

Ruth is not worried about his own salary this season. He admitted that point-blank during a chat at his apartment. He knows the Yankees can't advantageously go through with the $50,000 contract they've offered him in place of the $75,000 for 1932. But he doesn't like to see this proposed $25,000 cut used as a club to bludgeon other players into accepting depression salaries.

The Babe would not discuss this latter phase of the contract business, but close friends were not backward in revealing his feelings about it.

In previous years, he has taken the annual salary tilt good-naturedly—"A lot of fun and good publicity," he said. But this time he feels he's being shoved into an unbecomingly role.

This feeling cropped out when he admitted openly that he was "mighty sore" at Ed Barrow, the club's business manager. He believes Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yanks, had no part in the plan and harbors no resentment against him.

DEMANDS ACTION.

He declared he wouldn't dicker with Barrow over the contract, and that further negotiations must come directly from Ruppert. But he wants the matter settled quickly. He doesn't want to be stuck with a money list giving the various club owners time to threaten players by saying "you'd better slap your John Hancock on the dotted line—look what they're doing to Ruth."

Although he'll be 39 in February, and can't be as spry in right field as in former seasons, the Babe is shrewd enough to know he's still the greatest drawing card in baseball, and that the Yanks could pay him $100,000 for the season and still make money on him.

"Sure, times are tough," the big brown-haired fellow said, "but not for the Yanks. They may be tight for a year, and they'll make money this year on me if they pay my price. Now, don't get me wrong, I haven't got a swell conk. I'm not trying to make myself out a big shot, but I'd be very woody if I didn't know what I was worth at the gate. Why, they make my salary on the trip alone. So I'm not worried about my salary."

HE IS WORTH IT.

Ruth was not over-stating his case. The writer recalled that last season when the Babe was out of the game because of illness, when the new Cleveland stadium first opened, Bill Evers, of the Cleveland club, figured his absence meant almost $4,000 a day, although the pennant race was practically over.

Some time ago, the Babe tried to pull out of the game because he was dissatisfied with the rule against batters' bats. He came back, but a $10,000 per cent cost the club owners about $200,000 in gate receipts. Since then, rovers of publicity about George Herman Ruth have been scarce.

The public will pay to watch him even if they prop him up in right field with crutches.

Senor Gomez Insulted Over Smal Raise.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(UP)—Senor Gomez, "Lefty" of the New York Yankees' ace southpaw hurler, today enlisted under Babe Ruth's banner as a definite holdout. He is fighting for more money, but the Babe is battling a salary cut, while Lefty is insulted because the Yanks didn't give him a large enough raise.

Gomez, the "Goofy Castilian," is just a tall, skinny farmer boy from Rodeo, Cal., but he figures baseball salaries in the big time. Last season he won 24 games while losing 7, and gained 7 victories over the Philadelphia Athletics against 1 setback.

Old Dave Shade Had Much 'Punch' But Coppers Won

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(UP)—Dave Shade, veteran middleweight who has lost about 15 pounds since he was a ring warfarer dropped an overwhelming verdict today on several policemen in a street brawl.

He first arrested five men on a charge of disorderly conduct and was taken to Bellevue hospital in a straight-jacket, still trying to prolong the engagement, although cut about the head and hands.

The police version of the struggle with Shade, who has won many of the outstanding waterweights, middleweights and even light-heavyweights in his long career, placed the start of the battle outside, alleging speakery early this morning in the Bronx.

Shade is alleged to have approached a traffic policeman claiming he had been assaulted. A weird succession of tussles started then, Shade first engaging the policeman, then two policemen, then two policemen and a bystander, an ambulance crew and a flock of detectives.

The detectives finally won the decision in the Highbridge police station, although Shade by that time was equalizing things with a chair, swung in a timely arc. After treatment by a second ambulance squad he was bundled off to Bellevue in a straight-jacket, for further treatment for his colic.

Red Birds To Train At Spartanburg

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 18.—(UP)—The Columbus Red Birds of the American association will train at Spartanburg, S. C., this spring. L. S. MacPhail, president, announced today.

The first squad, including the pitchers and catchers, will leave Columbus March 10 and the first workout is scheduled for March 13.

DIAMOND HEADS TO CAST VOTE ON CARR BALL

Opinion Is Favorable to Change; Voorhes To Represent Spalding.

By Jimmy Jones.

That the Carr ball, a topic for endless dispute during recent years, is destined to pass out of usage in the Southern league this year, to be replaced by the official ball of the National league, appears imminent. A canvass of various club owners showed a majority in favor of a change.

The matter will come up for an official vote at the schedule meeting of the league to be held in Chattanooga on January 30. Hal Voorhes, Atlanta representative of the A. G. Spalding Company which manufactures the ball used by the National league, will attend the meeting as spokesman for his firm.

Voorhes said yesterday that he had written all eight of the Southern league club presidents and that six of them had replied favorably to adopting the Spalding ball. The other two had not been heard from yesterday.

Charlie Carr, who supplied the balls for the league over a period of many years, died recently and his factory now is in the hands of a receiver. It has been reported. Although the league's contract with him still has a year to run, it is not likely that it will be valid under the circumstances.

"Owing to the fact that Mr. Carr was a very close personal friend of mine, I never made any serious effort to have our ball adopted by the Southern, but now that he is no longer living, I feel free to go ahead and push our case," Voorhes said.

Efforts to "dead-end" the Carr ball last year, following general complaints around the league, proved unsatisfactory, according to reports of league representatives at the Memphis meeting. Examination proved that while the Carr ball was less lively, it was not so much as to do something about the change, it was easily knocked out of shape and less serviceable.

President John D. Martin ordered Carr factory to do something about the ball after several farcical free-bitting games had been played early last season, including a game in Atlanta that went 15 innings to a score of 16-15.

Voorhes said that the Atlanta club was one of those favoring adoption of the National league ball.

Split Season To Be Talked.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 18.—Discussion of a split season in the Southern league is certain to come up at the schedule meeting here this afternoon. It has been revealed in local baseball circles.

Last season the league attempted a split season for economic reasons, but the move was blocked by Joe Engel, president of the Chattanooga club, mainly because the Lookouts were in a position to win the pennant. It is reported that Engel now is in favor of dividing the season, providing division is made before the season starts.

The "round robin" play-off plan adopted by the Texas league, the International American Association and the Pacific coast league, was borrowed from the Texas league, was borrowed from the Texas league, was borrowed from the Texas league.

There was a couple of guys who had been coming up to our baseball school from down in the country. One of them was a fellow named Walton, who is now the chief of police at Jonesboro. One day they come to me and says, 'Tubby, we want ball players, but there's a boy down yonder at Fayetteville who is.'

Walton went on to say that they hadn't been able to get a strike on him. I asked 'em what it would take to get this Travis up here, and they says five gallons of gasoline, so I gives 'em the money.

The first time I ever laid eyes on Travis was one cold day in February. He came out to the ball park with the other coppers who had come to fetch him. He had on a pair of duck breeches and tennis shoes. Well, he looked like a boy down yonder at Fayetteville who is.

Walton went on to say that they hadn't been able to get a strike on him. I asked 'em what it would take to get this Travis up here, and they says five gallons of gasoline, so I gives 'em the money.

Just Leave It to 'Tub' To Keep Record Right

Walton Tells True Story of Travis Discovery, Including Item of Gasoline.

By Jimmy Jones.

Mr. Tubby Walton, the stout restaurateur, has taken issue with the writer regarding the piece compiled about Cecil Travis, the Fayetteville flash, the other morning.

You left out one item of expense that should have gone in on the purchase of that guy," complained Walton. "You should have had it $201.25."

The extra dollar and a quarter, he explained, was the amount which he (Walton) contributed to the expedition which discovered Travis for the operation program of the winter golf season.

"That ought to be included brother, for $125 to your Uncle Tubby at that time was a pretty good piece of change," Walton added.

Just by way of keeping the records straight, here is Walton's own inimitable relation of the circumstances which introduced Travis to his school of baseball here and subsequently to the Southern league.

"There was a couple of guys who had been coming up to our baseball school from down in the country. One of them was a fellow named Walton, who is now the chief of police at Jonesboro. One day they come to me and says, 'Tubby, we want ball players, but there's a boy down yonder at Fayetteville who is.'

Walton went on to say that they hadn't been able to get a strike on him. I asked 'em what it would take to get this Travis up here, and they says five gallons of gasoline, so I gives 'em the money.

The first time I ever laid eyes on Travis was one cold day in February. He came out to the ball park with the other coppers who had come to fetch him. He had on a pair of duck breeches and tennis shoes. Well, he looked like a boy down yonder at Fayetteville who is.

Walton went on to say that they hadn't been able to get a strike on him. I asked 'em what it would take to get this Travis up here, and they says five gallons of gasoline, so I gives 'em the money.

VAUDY DEFEATS TECH, 38 TO 27, AT NASHVILLE

New Offense Maneuver Gives Commodores Edge in Superiority.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Vanderbilt's cases, springing a new offense maneuver, defeated Georgia Tech with little trouble here tonight, 38 to 27.

It was the Commodores' sixth straight victory since their defeat at the hands of Ohio State on New Year's Eve, and their fourth victory in the Southeastern conference, in which they are undefeated.

Although the visiting team was unable to get its offense clicking, it made a better showing on defense than the Vanderbilt quintet and the defensive play of Woodall and Orr Tech forward and center, respectively, was the outstanding performance of the contest.

The maneuver which Vanderbilt tried tonight for the first time apparently left the Tech men slightly bewildered. It consisted of the constant circling of the guards and forwards in the middle of the floor, with the center stationed in front of the basket, passing the ball from one man to another until they saw an opening for a shot at the basket.

It served as a stall and enabled the Commodores to win handily in spite of their rather spotty playing throughout the game. The "merry-go-round" tactics apparently irritated the spectators, who made audible comments on the slow-moving play.

Vanderbilt led throughout the game and was ahead 21 to 13, at the end of the first half.

SMITHIES SCORE IMPRESSIVE WIN

Tech High added another victory to its basketball string Wednesday night, defeating Hogsheadville High, winner of the Fourth District tournament last year, 67 to 14, in the Henry Grady court.

The Smithies ran up a lead of 39 to 6 during the first half, and in the second half a Tech High reserve team added to the total.

Hogsheadville fought hard, but could not cope with the speed and of the Tech High team, which ranks with the best of the best ever to represent the institution.

Finally both coaches, the reserve, two scorers and two timekeepers agreed that the ball had left Kelly's hands before the whistle was blown, while Pittman and Perkins accounted for 25 of the Smithies points in the first half. Cavender played best for the losers.

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 18.—(UP)—Hialeah Park, home of the Miami Jockey Club and widely acclaimed as one of the world's most beautiful race courses, throws open its gates tomorrow for the opening program of its 45-day winter meeting.

The course is in the best of condition and fair weather has been promised for the seven-day meet. It is featured by the $2,500 added Hialeah inaugural handicap. Eighteen of the best sprinters in training are entered in the inaugural, which is for 3-year-olds and older, and it would not be surprising to see the six furlongs track record of 1:10 2-5, held by Paton, shattered by the flying hoofs of the winner of this event.

Approximately 600 seasoned horses are on the grounds, all keyed up for competition, and with purses ranging upward from $100 there should be keen interest in the racing programs throughout the meeting.

DETROIT, Jan. 18.—(AP)—If what Detroit police suspect is true, followers of the ponies—as well as the ponies themselves—have received some shocks that were not in the form sheets.

With the arrest of Albert Frye, 26, and Joseph Sordman, police uncovered what they believe is a nationwide scheme to defraud owners of race horses by means of an electrical device enabling jockeys to deliver a galvanizing shock to lagging mounts on the home stretch. The device, one of which police said was in possession of the two men, fastens under an ordinary saddle and is operated by pressure of the jockey's knees.

Evidence that the device has already been successfully operated was believed by the authorities to lie in a cryptic telegram policy they took from Frye's pocket. The telegram was sent from New Orleans. It read: "44,000 sec for Detroit, New York, Chicago, and Boston. Charm taken care of."

Checking through race results, police discovered that a horse named Charm galloped home ahead of the field in a recent New Orleans race, much to the surprise of everyone, and paid $19.50 for every $2 wagered. The race was won a few days after the date on the mysterious telegram.

To You

MR. TALMADGE---

Our new Governor, we extend sincere good wishes for a successful administration, and the hope that before your term ends Georgia may find herself again on the road that leads to peace and contentment for all of our people.

To You

OUR LEGISLATORS---

We extend friendly greetings, and a warm welcome to our city. To the following facts we respectfully invite your earnest attention and consideration:

Year:	Population of Georgia in Round Figures:	State Taxes in Round Figures:
1900	2,216,000	$3,542,000.00
1910	2,609,000	5,188,000.00
1920	2,895,000	11,170,000.00
1931	2,908,000	30,702,000.00

Thus, while our population has increased a little more than 30%, our state taxes have increased almost one thousand per cent.

Your attention is invited to the fact that while business has declined almost 50% during the last three years, taxes have remained at the peak. This means that business concerns, as well as individual citizens of Georgia, are paying the state in taxes a much larger percentage of their gross incomes than was the case in prosperous times.

With the decline in income, business concerns in Georgia, as well as all other citizens, have been able to "get by" only thru practicing rigid economy. All items of expense over which business concerns have control have been reduced drastically. Only in this way can business continue to operate and give employment to many thousands of people.

Taxes constitute an item of expense over which the business man has no control, because they are fixed by law. So long as a business continues to operate, those taxes must be paid.

You gentlemen have it within your province to lighten this burden. We are therefore asking you to encourage business—to give it a chance—by effecting drastic economies in Government to the end that no new or additional taxes need be levied, and that the present burden, if possible, may be reduced.

There are some indications that the most serious phases of the depression are over—that better days are ahead. One of the greatest barriers to business today is the fact that so large a portion of income must go for taxes—one dollar out of three. The business men of Atlanta and of Georgia are fighting and will continue to fight vigorously to keep going—to give employment to as many people as possible—and to bring about a restoration of prosperity. You gentlemen have it in your power to help speed the return of better times by co-operating in the way suggested. We believe you will do it.

Dr. Young, in discussing "Characteristic Behavior of Adolescent Girls," will evaluate the work carried on by character-building agencies and tell some of his experiences with the present trend of adolescent thinking.

This study and lecture series forms an educational background to enable the committee members to undertake a survey on "Interests of Adolescent Girls in Atlanta." Plans will be discussed whereby each committee member will assume responsibility for certain questionnaires to senior and junior high school girls. This survey will determine the age range of girl reserve membership in providing a concentrated program for the teen age girl. Mrs. F. J. Henry, chairman of the committee, will preside.

A snappy "talent" program will feature the Decatur High Girl Reserve meeting Wednesday afternoon, according to Miss Elizabeth Cousins, program chairman. Talented leaders will display their varied skills and stimulate interest in cultivating hobbies. Miss Dorothy Perry and Miss Cornelia Christie will sing duets, and Miss Genevieve Duke will give comic recitations. A piano solo by Miss Peggy Ann Fowler, and a tap dance by Miss Alberta Benham will complete the program.

"The Place of Girl Reserve Programs in Providing Trained Leadership" is chosen as the subject of the talks to be given by Miss Anne Primmore, Y. W. C. A. secretary, at the two assemblies Wednesday morning at the O'Keefe Junior High school.

By JOHN L. COOLEY.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Light selling ended a quiet stock market today. It made considerable impression on some merchandising and kindred issues, but otherwise the list stood up fairly well and closed a little above the day's lows.

Wheat was depressed by denial that negotiations were under way for purchase of Canadian grain by the Soviet Union and by weakness of Canadian exchange, and this presumably reacted on stocks. Bonds were firmer in the United States government department, but droopy elsewhere.

Stocks were dull all day. The average loss in leaders amounted to just a point on a turnover of 680,285 shares.

Pressure was pronounced against Woolworth, off 2-3/8 net, and National Dairy, down about a point. Investment Trust selling was mentioned in brokerage house circles as partly responsible for their weakness. Chrysler business for the stores was well under expectations.

Tobacco was sustained by Liggett & Myers' declaration of a 10 percent extra dividend and by publication of that company's 1932 results, which showed $8.50 a share for the common and class "B" stock against $6.87 in 1931.

United States Steel, American Can and Allied Chemical lost from a half to more than one point. American Telephone and Cable were also heavy. Rails, with the exception of Chesapeake & Ohio, worked off moderately.

Freight handling picked up again last week, but comparisons with a year ago revealed the familiar decrease. Oils were not particularly disturbed by fresh crude price cutting.

Miscellaneous orders have added their support to the buying of the automotive and container makers, yet the market was not particularly buoyant. It is necessary, the review said, if present activity is to be maintained.

Complete New York Stock Exchange List

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Following is the complete official list of today

CUBBIST SAGS
AS SALES DECLINE

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER.—Following the line of last week's report, the curb market today resisted a bit lower in one of the duller sessions in months. Transfers totaled 90,000 barrels against 110,000 on Tuesday.

Such trading favors as Electric Road & Share, and Standard Oil of Indiana accounted for a goodly part of the total volume. These gave up from fractions to a point.

Oils were uniformly lower on the day, but a sharp decline in the price of mid-continent crude. Standard of Indiana was sold by traders apparently seeking to scale profits on the short side, but support was good enough to prevent any more than a loss of 1-4 of a point.

Senior issues of utilities fell back a little under light offerings. In the specialty group Great Atlantic & Pacific was heavy, losing more than 3 points.

TARZAN THE UNTAMED No. 184

The slave-owner's whip fell once upon the fair white captive and was raised to lash again, when Pat heard a commanding voice cry out sharply.
"In Allah's name, strike not the woman in anger, brother!"

"Remember—part of the gold you paid for her,
was mine. Put down your whip!" The girl, not understanding, stood between the two brothers.
A moment the older man hesitated, while the younger's hand gripped the knife at his belt.

Then, in a sudden mood, muttering, the older brother strode from the tent. Pat wondered if she would be any better off, now. Often during the desert journey she had seen this young man watching her.

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Once even, he had brought the weary girl a gourd of cooling water. Now his tone was gentle as he spoke some words and signed her to follow. And Pat, having no alternative, followed her protector toward the most secluded section of the sleeping cave.

Do what I failed to do!

If I Had Only Signed for This Insurance.
Several months ago when this paper offered their liberal $10,000 accident insurance I talked about signing. Another case of a good thought not carried out—and here I am with a bunch of bills—no work—no money.
The only thing he can do now is to console himself and family with the promise, that, when he gets well and back to work the first pay day he will take out one of those Reader Service policies which create a drawing account of up to $300.00 in injury and an estate of from $1,000 to $10,000 in case of death.
Few of us can leave bank accounts but we can provide drawing accounts and estates in event of calamities—accidental injury and death.
Don't wait until Misfortune is in the home! Act now!

USE COUPON BELOW
This insurance is offered to you by The Atlanta Constitution for less than 2 cents a week. Get it today—NOW—do not put off until tomorrow, that may be too late. No one knows when tragedy will strike.
The policy is issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill. The reliability of this concern is proved by the fact that already more than $160,000 in cash has been paid on claims to Constitution policy holders.
This insurance is offered to old and new subscribers alike. One who is now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, or will subscribe for same through carrier in Atlanta or suburbs, through an out-of-town carrier or dealer, paying for the paper weekly, monthly or otherwise, is a subscriber and is eligible.
Paid-in-advance mail subscribers can also have this insurance by paying the small registration fee of $1 in addition to the subscription price.
Those living in Atlanta and suburbs finding it inconvenient to pay the $1 registration fee in advance can pay 20 cents registration fee with the application and 20 cents for five consecutive weeks thereafter in addition to the subscription price.
In sending application for insurance the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation, and if beneficiary is desired the full Christian name of the beneficiary must be given and the relationship to the insured.
